

Amillion Dollar Rates:

Policy: We go above and beyond for each and every client of Amillion. (Our goal is to create the absolute best fitting garment for our client period.) We insure the most exceptional fit, usage of the highest quality materials, and top notch tailoring which all go into making a custom-made piece of Amillion dollar clothing. We follow very specific details from the designer himself. Once a garment is made we do not issue a refund. However, if the garment is defective, or needs an adjustment we will honor free alterations for the lifetime of the garment.

Rates:

Our custom-made suits start at: $1,800.00 dollars and up. This all depends on material, construction, and demands on the garment. We require at least 50% non-refundable deposit down on a garment before we start work on it. At this time, we will discuss delivery time, and our two or three fitting policies if needed. When the garment is completed, we will require the whole amount to be paid in full, then we will release the garment to the client.

A note on custom: The difference between Amillion, Inc., and its competitors. Our pricing is fair, and very competitive, we offer outside tailoring for clients at a discounted price. We do basic work. I.e. sleeve shorting, a hem on a pant, or a waist, and seat of a garment. Our turn around time for a garment purchased outside, is two weeks. (Depending on our work load, we can make exceptions, and it depends on the work we are doing on the client/s garment.) We at Amillion, Inc. provide top notch tailoring services from experienced tailors from all around the world. These Master tailors, have over 10-to-20 years of experience, in what we call "Old world sewing". Example: most tailors, just trim a sleeve off a garment. "Our old world tailors", actually remove the whole sleeve from the garment, and trim it to its exact modification length, then re-attach the sleeve to the garment. A lot of tailors lack this skill today, or as we call it. "Old world tailoring", so they do shabby, or rushed work. We at Amillion, Inc., pride ourselves as a company. We go above and beyond for our clients with our top notch customer service, and unmatched tailoring. "This is an Art, not something that should be executed as a microwavable function." We take our tailoring very seriously, and vow to deliver only the absolute best to our clients."

Real custom: Many specialty shops, and retail chains, offer what they call custom-made clothing; at a value price. Well here is the truth, we do real custom-made clothing. Most of our competition offer a shell of a suit, which means the garment is pre-made, and just needs a little fine tuning. This is called made-to-measure. A made-to-measure suit, is not a custom made suit. An Amillion dollar custom suit, takes at least 40-60 plus labor hours to complete from start to finish. We don't have a shell in our inventory, and just make adjustments to the garment for the client to pick up. We measure the client, with: 18-30 intense measurements, that will be provided to our cutting tailors, to complete the client/s garment, with pin-point accuracy. We follow strict directions from the designer himself. Our material comes from the best fabric mills in the world. All over Europe, England, Italy, France, and the USA. Our buttons, and lining are top notch. our buttons can be custom made for the client, with there initials on them, or our signature logo, or or company name, and or logo on them. Our lining is the best jacquard, silk, or exotic animal lining, if the client desires. "This is basically the best fitting suit in the world period... "Amillion Bespoke suits".

Amillion Bespoke suits: A brand new pattern is cut for the client/s during this process, this pattern is cut specifically for the wearer. We need much more than just intense measurements to achieve this custom fit. To accomplish this bespoke fit, multiple fittings need to be made, to accomplish this fit.

Swatch selection: There is no limit on our suiting options, we have about two hundred swatches to choose from. This is a one-on-one meeting with the client/s, and person, and or team cutting the garment for the owner. The conclusion an amazing fitting garment with a dynamic fit for the wearer.

The first fitting: is a skeletal fitting.

The second fitting: is the forward fitting.

The third fitting: is the fin bar fitting. These different fittings take place at all different times during the fitting. Sometimes it could take up to 5 different fittings to insure a precise fitting, and pin-point accuracy.

Mandatory three time fitting policy: We at Amillion, Inc., insure an exceptional customer experience, and require at least two fittings from the client to make sure the garment is cut properly and fits it's owner.

During this process, we ask the client(s), to tell us exactly how he/she likes the garment to fit. When this is agreed upon, then we begin to cut and sew the garment.

2nd fitting: This is the process that happens, after we begin to cut out the pattern of the garment. We may call the client(s) to come in and try the garment. At this stage, the garment, may already be cut, or half way done. The garment may already be finished, and we need the client(s) to try on the garment, to make sure that they are happy with the look and fit of the garment. Once agreed upon, we then move to finished production, we complete the garment.

3rd and final fitting: This is the completion of the garment, this last fitting to mediatory to put any last minute details on the completed garment. Once agreed upon by designer, and client(s), we then finish all alterations, button detailing, lining, trimming, and pressing of the garment. The client(s), then tries on the garment making sure that the fit of the garment is correct, and the look of the garment is correct, and that they are 100% satisfied with the garment. Once this takes place we release the garment to the client. Garment will not be released until the client is 100% satisfied with the fit, and look of the garment.
